C. I. O. Seeks Overthrow of Majority Rule in American Federation of Labor

JUDGE UPHOLDS LABOR BOARD IN RAND CASE

Refuses Injunction and Orders Hearing on Charge of Unfair Labor Practices.

Buffalo, N. Y.—The Remington-Rand

company it with a blunt demand here that the National Labor Relations Board, when Federal Judge John Knight denied the concern's application for a permanent injunction against the 32-member International Labor Relations Board from ordering the company to stop interfering with a complaint of unfair labor practices made by striking employees of the company. He also dismissed the temporary injunction recently obtained by the company and ordered the hearing on the complaint by the National Labor Board.

Counsel for the Remington-Rand company challenged the constitutionality of the National Labor Relations Act and asked the court to issue an injunction prohibiting the Board from proceeding with the hearing on the complaint and that the company's rights under the Constitution would suffer therefrom.

Judge Knight ruled that the constitutionality of the Act could not be determined by the company's rights under the Constitution would suffer therefrom.

“The provisions of the National Labor Relations Act for enforcement and review of the orders of the Board afford an adequate, complete and exclusive remedy,” he decided, adding: “The question of the applicability of the Act to the complainant cannot be determined herein, nor can the constitutionality of the Act be decided in this suit.”

Charges of unfair labor practices prohibited by the National Labor Relations Act were filed against the Remington

The strike started in Syracuse, N. Y., where workers accused the company of discharging men for union activity, an spread to Tonawanda and Ilion, in New York State, and to Norwood, Ohio, and Middletown, Conn.

COMPETITIVE SYSTEM ASSAILED BY RABBIS

women to the unemployed army and throwing over twenty-five million into destitution and dependency has failed and must inevitably give way to broad socialization of industry.

The text of the statement, designed to be read from pulpits of synagogues throughout the United States during the high Holy days which began Septem-er 16, follows:

"The current conflict between Communism, Fascism and democracy is causing grave concern in the field of religion. Each religious group is now compelled to decide which social philosophy it can consistently support and defend. The members of the Central Conference of American Rabbis are convinced that Judaism is completely convicted that Judaism is essentially democratic in spirit and expression and that the Jew cannot advocate or advance any social system other than democracy. We, therefore, urge the Jewish people to carefully consider this urgent and acute problem in our social life in order that neither the young nor the old may be attracted to alien cultures.

Clear Thinking Necessary

"At the present time three trends are developing in the political organization of America: Communism on the extreme left, Fascism on the extreme right and a socialized democracy in the center. The danger is that the American people will fall into the trap of thinking that the choice is either Communism or Fascism. The either-or type of thinking is always dangerous and as a rule wrong. It is not necessary to limit ourselves to two choices, Communism or Fascism.

Escaping Dictatorships by Democracy

"In the judgment of the members of the conference, there is only one way

"This change can be achieved, the members are convinced, without force and violence and bloodshed and through the orderly methods of democratic procedure. We solemnly commend to the American people a social philosophy that is derived from the expanding democratic ideal that must henceforth be sovereign in our social life.

Millions of Jobless and Destitute

"It is true that we challenge the present social system, for we believe that it is responsible for the current social collapse and catastrophe. It has created a host of more than 10,000,000 unemployed men and women. It has hurled 25,000,000 to 30,000,000 of the population of the United States into dependency, destitution and despair.

Social Justice Measures

"It is true that in order to establish social justice we advocate a socialization of the basic social enterprises; that we urge an equitable redistribution of the national income through a fund-mental system of taxation; that we support a social security measure that will guarantee security to the sick, the aged, and the unemployed; and that we insist upon the maintenance of civil liberties unimpaired and the rights of labor uncompromised.
